12- Monitoring and following-up in the sense of espionage by monitoring the student's movements through social media and monitoring him permanently and passively.

Procedures that the student must follow in the event of cyberbullying:

1- Do not delete messages.

2- Ignoring the bully's message and not responding to it.

3- Talk to your parents about the incident or communicate directly with the social worker or department supervisor to take the necessary measures in accordance with the code of conduct approved by the Department of Education and Knowledge.

School procedures with the bully:

The school follows the code of conduct followed with cases of electronic bullying, which is a third-degree violation, which are:

1- Immediate contact with the parent, informing him of what happened from the student, and deducting half of the behavior score for third-degree violations.

2- Individual and group guidance for students.

3- If the violation is repeated, the full degree will be deducted + immediate convening of the behavior committee + contacting the parent and informing him of the behavior committee's decision.

3- The procedures range from a written warning to the student to withdrawing the user's right to access and monitoring his usage.
